LYNCHING OF SUSPECT FEARED

UKIAH, May 24.—(UP)—Hundreds of men from the frontier farms of northern California, angered by a verdict that little six-year old Theresa Johnson had been assaulted before she was slain, tramped through heavy brush of the wild Mendocino country tonight to find the degenerate.

An inquest into the death of the girl, conducted at Fort Bragg late today, determined that she had been the victim of a fiend who strangled and beat her to death.

Father Leads posse
The father of the girl, F. B. Johnson, grim-faced and with dark marks under his scowling eyes, went with the posse and exhorted them to greater action.

Authorities feared the searchers would take the law into their own hands if they located a man they believed to be the slayer and a lynching would follow. Consequently, deputies of the sheriff's office had been assigned.

LOST BROKER FOUND DEAD

OMAHA, Neb., May 24.—(UP)—The mystery surrounding George R. Christian and the missing funds of a New York brokerage firm appeared near solution today when a body in the morgue here was identified positively as that of the long sought broker.

The woman's identification, added to that of Irvin J. Smith, New York private detective, removed all doubt as to the man's identity, Deak said.

Except for unforeseen circumstances, Dr. Wise said, no more transfusions will be needed.

JOHNSTON OUTLINES PROJECT

Richmond industries will be assured an adequate supply of fresh water for manufacturing purposes under plans now being considered by directors of the East Bay Municipal Utility district.

San Pablo dam, upon completion of the Mokelumne project, is being considered as a storage reservoir for industrial water, according to H. A. Johnston of Richmond, district director. Conversion of the San Leandro dam for similar purposes is also contained in the plan.

Under the proposed plan, industries from Richmond to San Leandro would be guaranteed an ample supply of fresh water at a low cost. Johnston stated. Water from the two dams could be distributed by gravity, doing away with the cost of maintaining pumping plants.

The proposed change would take place as soon as the Mokelumne project is completed, Johnston declared. Surplus water would be diverted into the San Pablo and San Leandro dams together with run off water from the water sheds.

As water for industrial purposes would not necessarily have to be as pure as for domestic purposes, the cost of patrolling for the waterworks would be eliminated and much of the lands could be sold. The water would be filtered through the Lafayette dam.

From the San Pablo dam, water could be diverted through a projected pipe line as far as the Oakland water front industries. Water from the San Leandro dam would serve the industries from Oakland to San Leandro.

Directors of the district will consider the plan more fully upon the completion of the present project, Johnston stated, as they are anxious to do all in their power to furnish Richmond and the East-bay with cheap industrial water so the district can compete with the southern part of the state in drawing and holding industries.

CHURCH ARSON SUSPECT FREED

SAN JOSE, May 24.—(UP)—Once convicted for arson in the burning of a Catholic church at Mt. View and imprisoned for months in San Quentin, Joseph C. Rosa, war veteran, was freed by a jury in half an hour here today after retrial of his case.

The crowd in the courtroom of Judge F. B. Brown broke into cheers at announcement of the verdict.

Rosa is in poor health because of service in the World War and his confinement in prison, and the jury which freed him today also took first steps toward his physical rehabilitation by starting a fund to maintain him until he can be admitted to the Veterans hospital.

Rosa was convicted on a charge of setting fire to the church primarily through testimony by Father James Galvin, parish priest who said he had received threatening letters from Rosa.

REDS ARE BUSY

Writing in the Daily Worker, New York, the national Communist organ, of May 6, Irving Keith says that the growth of industrialism in Tidewater, Virginia, calls for an intensification of communist revolutionary activity in that section. It is especially important, he declares, that the negroes be organized along revolutionary lines. All this is especially important, Keith writes, because of the number of bases for manufacturing and storing war material and the number of military schools in that section. Thus Virginia becomes "one of the most strategic points in the country." . . . "In the navy yard at Portsmouth," continues the article, "is a strong group of militant workers. This militant group in the navy yard is of the utmost importance. With the proper leadership it must be turned into an active shop nucleus, embracing the best element among negro and white workers. It is also of the utmost importance that nuclei be established immediately in all of these bases and military schools." Commenting on this article the Daily Worker says editorially, "The district committee is now engaged in building a real party unit from among the workers in the basic industries, concentrating among the workers at the navy yard. The condition described by Comrade Keith existed and to an extent still exists in other party units in the south. The party is now giving attention to these units in reorganizing them and orientating itself on the negro proletarians and the workers in the basic industries generally." When it is recalled that the avowed purpose of the Communist party is to precipitate armed revolution the significance of this activity in the navy yard at Norfolk and in the military schools of the state can readily be grasped.

GAMES

International golf and world wide tennis championships bring to the game the most sportsmanlike and gentlemanly exponents of competition. Generally speaking there is less fighting over the most bitterly fought games between the tennis and golf leaders of the world than there might be over any localized contest of any character.

This is because the fashion of chivalry persists. In days of King Arthur it was au fait—to use the smart phrase—for men in armor to endeavor with all their powers to kill one another in a manner most messy, but still to preserve the utmost courtesy toward one another. One can imagine Sir Geraint begging the pardon of Sir Launcelot as they rushed headlong to the lists and tried expertly to insert the business ends of their lances in one another's anatomies.

The golfers of America preserve the best traditions of the sport when they invade Great Britain and with ferocity try to whip the exponents of the ancient game.

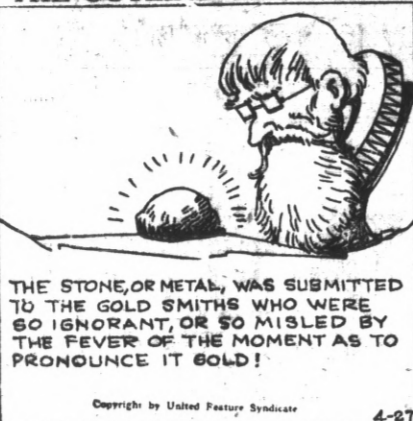

With other international sports it is a little different. No such amenities accompany the efforts of a Schmeling or a Uzcudun to pound the daylight out of an American and vice versa. And still legalized assault and battery need not involve the murderous instincts. It is largely a matter of breeding. The gallery at a golf match is made up of people who think in terms of amicable rivalry, though keen; those who pay to see prize fights are present mainly because they love the smack of gloves on yielding flesh.

One nice thing, girls, about marrying a man who hasn't known you all your life is that he can't prove you are not telling the truth when you say you could have married better than you did.

It would be simpler if Mexico set aside part of the country for revolutions and the rest for business.—Dallas News.

—LAST TIMES TODAY—

Nancy Carroll
Dances Way To Fame In Film

Paramount's production of "Abie's Irish Rose" is the latest in the series of the New York stage as a dancer, then took up singing, and became an actress who could step and warble as few others can. When she signed the contract for "Abie's Irish Rose"

JANNINGS WILL BE SEEN IN BETRAYAL

Emil Jannings, supported by two of Hollywood's most popular featured players, Esther Ralston and Gary Cooper, has produced the sixth of his grippingly powerful human dramas for Paramount. The picture is "Betrayal," which will be the attraction at the Fox-California theater, starting tomorrow for two days.

Jannings' characters have always been taken directly from life and in this story of the Swiss alps he has a role which does justice to his wonderful talent for interpretation. As the self-satisfied, self-centered Swiss bargher, Jannings gives a performance unsurpassed on the American screen, one worthy of comparison with his immortal picturization of the mad czar in "The Patriot."

The powerful dramatic story was directed by Lewis Milestone, whose recent successes with "Two Arabian Knights" and "The Racket," have placed him in the forefront of motion picture makers. Victor Schertzinger wrote the original story.

Very important in the picture are two small boys who have roles as Jannings' sons. These characters are played by Douglas Haig, Jr. and Jada Weller. J. Douglas was Jannings' son in "Sins of the Fathers." Jada is a lovely, snub-nosed little boy who gives a surprising performance. The cast headed by Miss Ralston and Cooper, was carefully selected from Hollywood's best dramatic talent.

William Bow, Clara's Kin Enters Films

Another Brooklynite named Bow is in the movies. William Bow, cousin of the imitable Clara of "It" fame, makes his bow in the latest Paramount release in which his flaming half-cousin plays the stellar role—"The Wild Party."

William and Clara were playmates and pals in their grammar school and high school days in Brooklyn. He went to Hollywood after completing his education in the East and Dorothy Arzner, woman director, gave him a role a short time ago in a wild party sequence of "The Wild Party," which closes its engagement at the Fox-California theater today.

William Bow is an amateur athlete of ability and holds the interscholastic record for the quarter mile, the half mile and the mile in the New York metropolitan district.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there is no harm in taking a little medicine for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. It works so easily every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every drugist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

"NOAH'S ARK," starring Dolores Costello and featuring George O'Brien, is a Warner Bros. picture of this novel. It is based upon the scenario by Darryl Francis Zanuck.

SYNOPSIS
Through a heavy rain a Continental Express train is flying across Europe towards Paris. Three men, Ivan, a Russian, Armand, a German, and Emil, a Frenchman, all friends and members of the same Heidelberg Student Corps, bribe the conductor and obtain a private compartment. Seeing a girl standing, they invite her to accompany them. They are interrupted by the conductor who ushers in a priest. Outside the door are two Americans, Jim Travis and Al. Al, seeing the vacant place, calls Travis and they step into the compartment.

Al started into the compartment, followed by his friend, but Ivan, realizing the intrusion about to take place, jumped to his feet, and stepped forward, facing the intruders. "Pardon me, but this is a private compartment," he drew himself up in dignified anger, speaking hurriedly in Russian. "Aw, keep your shirt on!" Al, not understanding, looked blank. Then an idea dawned—an idea born of various experiences in Europe. He reached into his pocket, drew out a two franc piece, and deposited it superciliously in Ivan's hand and sat down beside Armand. The Russian, furious, yet amazed, stared at the coin, and then, as its significance penetrated his mind, threw it onto the floor and sank back into his seat, disgusted. The girl by the window had, for the first time since the entrance of the priest, turned around. She gazed at the two new arrivals, but her gaze rested on Travis. Suddenly she smiled faintly, yet sympathetically, and the man, feeling that at least here was one person who seemed to have no objection to sharing this compartment with himself and Al, started to cross towards the small space that remained between her and the priest. Apologetically, Armand, Emil, and Ivan watched the American's tactics. As he sat down he smiled at the girl as though they had some common interest. But she merely returned the smile with a formal nod and, again, stared out of the window, much to the intense satisfaction of the three primary occupants of the compartment.

Travis, however, was still undaunted. He felt that with due encouragement the girl might finally become interested, and there were yet many long hours of travel ahead. A companion who proved agreeable would not be at all amiss, and this companion was especially easy on the eyes, he decided. He realized that the others were watching him with hostile curiosity, so he determined to get the best of the situation. Finally, after a mental discussion with himself as to the most effective way in which to proceed, he extracted a cigarette case from his pocket and opened it. He extended it towards the girl. She turned, surveyed the offering as a satisfied cat might look upon a platter of old milk, and shook her head, returning almost at once to her contemplation of the dark haze.

Disappointed, Travis snapped the case shut. But another idea struck him. Perhaps the girl had refused because the compartment was already stuffy and filled with smoke. Perhaps she would like to have the window opened. Attracting her attention again, he waved his hand through the hazy blue air to indicate the condition. Then he pointed to the window. The girl made no response. Whereupon he leaned over and, grasping the strap, lowered the glass. A blast of wind and rain swept through the enclosure. The girl caught her cloak about her, trying to shield herself from the rushing storm, and in so doing fell into the arms of the man beside her.

4¢ worth of electricity cooks the dinner for 4 people

ABOUT 1¢ per person, less than the price of the coffee itself—that's the AVERAGE cost of cooking a family's meal with an electric range. Perhaps you never believed it to be so economical.

But remember, the electric rates were cut about a year ago. And today the price of electricity is below the price of electricity in the year 1914, although the cost of other things rose skyward as you well know.

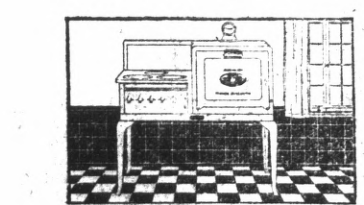

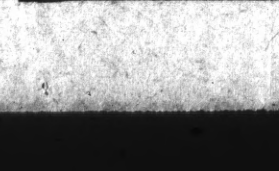

What is the monthly cost? A survey among our customers' accounts shows that the AVERAGE sum paid by our customers for cooking electrically, including lighting and small appliances, is but $5.76 per month! An amazingly low price for modern comfort, cleanliness and perfect baking.

Come in to our office or a dealer's store and see these modern electric ranges that are so reasonable to operate.

HOOVER, FORD TALK ABOUT DRY LAW

WASHINGTON, May 24.—UP.—When Herbert Hoover and Henry Ford met at the White House luncheon table, they discussed prohibition.

That, at least, is the only subject the celebrated automobile manufacturer would admit having discussed with the chief executive today.

"Prohibition is here to stay," said Ford after his visit with the president. "Prohibition must be enforced. There can be no turning back. I do not believe the people of the country want modification."

"Did you express that sentiment in your talk with the president," he was asked.

"Well, we discussed prohibition," he answered smilingly.

The increasing use of machinery alone, Ford said, militated against any modification of existing limitations on alcoholic beverages. Machinery in the homes and machinery in the air—all of these, he said, make sobriety not only desirable but a biological necessity in this high-speed civilization.

"Did you ever ride with a tipsy aviator?" he asked, as if to end the discussion with a question.

Refuses Details

Ford declined to indicate the president's reaction to his prohibition views, further than to say there had been a "discussion" of the subject. Neither would he say whether this discussion revolved about the president's newly appointed law enforcement commission, which is to meet in the cabinet room at the White House next Tuesday to receive its formal charge and charter from President Hoover.

Ford made a flying one-day visit to the capital expressly to accept the president's luncheon invitation. He left for New York late this afternoon.

New Plane Motor

A new Diesel engine, especially designed for aircraft, will be the next major production of the Ford establishment, if research now underway produces the hoped-for results. Ford told newspapermen who greeted him on President Hoover's front porch, "It is a little too early to forecast the future of the Diesel engine or to say that it will revolutionize aviation," Ford said. He does not propose to seek a Diesel for automobiles, and it is still uncertain whether the added weight of this type is compensated for by the cheaper operating costs in airplanes.

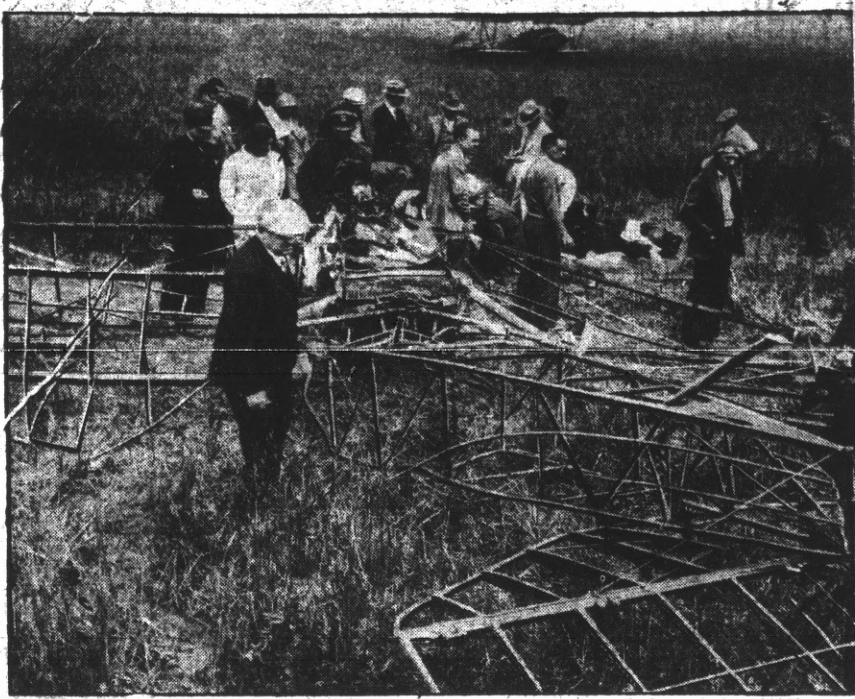

Ford chuckles over stock market rumors that he might sell his automobile business and devote himself exclusively to airplanes.

"Tell them to hire a hotel and fill it with these rumors," he said.

ENGINEER TELLS PROGRESS OF MOKELUMNE PROJECT

Progress on the Mokelumne project of the East Bay Municipal Utility district is contained in a report to the board of directors by Arthur P. Davis, chief engineer and general manager.

The report is as follows:

"During the first half of May the construction engineers of the district continued the testing of materials for construction work, the preparation of detailed plans for the same, and the supervision of work under contract."

"The Geological Survey promises an early release of considerable material on the underground investigations that have been carried on by that bureau to meet the requirements of the State Division of Water Rights, along the Mokelumne valley."

"The first half of May has been occupied by the Lock Joint Pipe company in completing the Wildcat Aqueduct and this contract, including the Wildcat and Sequoia construction is now practically completed. A leakage test just completed on the Wildcat aqueduct shows only six and one-half percent of the leakage allowed by the contract. This was more stringent than could be constructed for cast iron pipe. It is therefore a remarkably light aqueduct. No visible leaks could be found."

"The total length of the large pipe now completed on the Sequoia and Wildcat aqueducts is 51,823 feet, or almost ten miles. Measures have been taken to connect these two aqueducts at the Claremont tunnel so that water can be transferred from the southern to the northern end of the district, or vice versa, in case of need prior to the completion of the Claremont tunnel."

"Grier and Mead, contractors for the Claremont tunnel, have completed excavation of the tunnel and of the invert of the lining for the entire length. Of the arch 9858 feet have been built out of a total of 18,004 feet and the contract as a whole is estimated to be eighty-two percent completed while the time elapsed is ninety-two percent."

"Chas. and Geo. K. Thompson have continued the work on the Pardee tunnel which has been entirely excavated and in which all of the invert is laid except for 234 feet where the steel lining will be required. The arch is now completed to the same point. This contract as a whole is ninety-four percent completed and the time elapsed is sixty-nine percent."

Lynn S. Atkins on, the contractor for Pardee tunnel, has placed 606,100 cu. yds. of concrete out of a total of 615,000. The excavation is entirely completed. The contract as a whole is ninety-five percent completed but this consists mostly of the power house, the dam proper being nearly ninety-nine percent completed. The reservoir now contains 55,740 acre feet of stored water, of which 30,555 acre feet is above the outlet valve. This quantity of water is available for use as soon as the tunnel is completed.

"The Ward Engineering company has completed the Jackson Creek Spillway and the South spillway. The outlet tower under contract to this company has been started by excavating the foundation of which 7,200 cu. yds. has been taken out. The work covered by the outlet tower contract is 11 percent completed and the time elapsed for its construction is 12 percent."

"The ditch siphon under contract to the Steel Tank and Pipe company at the Jackson Creek spillway has been completed. On the clearing of the reservoir 64 percent of the work has been completed and the work was discontinued last winter."

"Transformers for the Walnut creek pumping plant are being placed and will be ready for use when required, which will be very shortly."

"A portable chlorinator was installed at the west portal of the Claremont tunnel to chlorinate the tunnel drainage water that was used for filling the Wildcat aqueduct. This water, although thoroughly disinfected, will be drained out of the aqueduct before it is put into use. The reaction channel in the ground water basin of the upper San Leandro filter plant was drained, inspected and found in excellent condition. The pump at the west portal of the Claremont tunnel was placed in operation on the 6th of May for the purpose of boosting the run-off from the Claremont tunnel into the Temescal reservoir. The raw water booster at upper San Leandro filter plant was started on the 7th of May."

"The consumption of water is now over 42,000,000 gallons per day, of which a little over one third is taken from wells, about one third from the San Pablo reservoir and the rest from the other storage above the outlets at the middle of the month was 1,600,000,000 gallons and will be ample to serve the district when supplemented by the wells until the arrival of the mountain water. This district may now feel secure against any water shortage within any period foreseeable at present."

COURTS READY FOR LIQUOR TRIALS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—UP.—Court of Federal District Judges Harold Louderback, Frank J. Kerrigan and A. F. St. Sure are being held in readiness for the arraignment Monday of defendants indicted in the Oakland rum raids of the last week.

Preliminary hearings were held today for Capt. Thornwald Brown of the Oakland police department, G. B. Ratto and John Filippelli, Oakland Fall bond broker. Their arraignment were set for Monday.

While the San Francisco courts are being cleared to hear the cases, rumors persisted today that Chief of Police Donald Marshall and United States District Attorney George Hatfield are planning another series of rum raids.

In the possession of the authorities is a little black book, said to have been owned by one of the indicted men that has revealed the names of those purchasing liquor, protection prices and other disclosures of official corruption in the prohibition history of northern California.

It was also revealed that Warren Jacks, owner of the little black book, was raided during the process of a "whoopie party." Raiding officers are alleged to have been told by one of the members of the party that "it's all right, I can fix this up" and the raid ended there.

In the meantime federal authorities are keeping guard over Jacks and Shorly Anderson who will be star witnesses for the prosecution in the trials. Fear has been expressed that the racketeers are out to "get" the two men.

John Filippelli, alleged "boss" of the racketeers, is free on $10,000 bond on the first charges and has posted $17,500 in bonds on six other indictments brought in by the grand jury.

OCEAN FLIGHTS WAITING ON WEATHER

OLD ORCHARD, Me., May 24.—UP.—The American monoplane "Green Flash" and the French monoplane "Yellow Bird" tonight were poised for flights to Rome and Paris, respectively, with unfavorable weather delaying their take-offs.

Though early weather reports indicated that it would probably be impossible to start their flights until the first of next week, the American and French aviators eagerly awaited the late evening report from Dr. James H. Kimball, New York meteorologist, hoping they might take off Saturday morning.

Roger Q. Williams and Lewis A. Vancey, co-pilots of the American plane, and Rene Lefevre and Jean Assolant, pilot and navigator of the "Yellow Bird," all expressed their eagerness to take off at the first opportunity.

FOGS, MIST DELAY HOPS

NEW YORK, May 24.—UP.—The belt of mist and rain over the Atlantic air routes grew heavier today, virtually shutting off all possibility of an attempted ocean flight over the week-end. Dr. James H. Kimball, meteorologist of the New York weather bureau, said he could not determine when the American and French trans-Atlantic flyers at Old Orchard, Me., could take off on their hops to Rome and Paris, respectively, but felt it would be highly inadvisable to brave the skies before Monday.

Wuxtra! Wuxtra! Runaway Horses On Tenth Street

In days of yore when a man bit a dog—that was news. Today when a horse runs away—that's better news! Horses running away in Richmond are scarce.

But it happened yesterday. A team of horses, dragging a mower was at work on a vacant lot mowing the weeds. Suddenly the horses became frightened and started a wild spurt away from the lot. After running to Tenth street and Bissell avenue, the wheel of the mower got caught in the Santa Fe railroad tracks and stopped the wild ride.

UNION OIL GETS BIG CONTRACT FROM NAVY

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—One of the biggest aviation gasoline contracts ever awarded by the United States navy on the Pacific coast has been secured by the Union Oil company of California for the next fiscal year, it was learned here from officials of the company yesterday. The contract is said to call upon the Union Oil company to supply approximately 2,600,000 gallons of Union aviation gasoline to navy planes being concentrated on this coast and also 4,056,000 gallons of Union motor gasoline for general use.

The Union Oil company last year was the successful bidder for the navy contract which expires June 30, next. The new contract covers the period from July 1, 1929 to June 30, 1930.

The increased aerial activities of the navy on this coast and the steady increase in the number of planes being allotted the battle fleet and the airplane carriers stationed in Pacific waters is said to account in a large measure for the size of the contract awarded this year.

The principal deliveries of aviation gasoline under the new contract will be made as follows: 1,200,000 gallons to the naval air station, North Island, San Diego, and 1,000,000 gallons at San Pedro, the bulk of which will be loaded on board the airplane carriers which fuel at the latter point.

The contract for the motor gasoline calls for the delivery of 900,000 gallons to various naval operating points at San Diego and vicinity; 400,000 gallons to the naval air station, North Island; 525,000 gallons to Mare Island; 1,000,000 gallons to naval vessels at San Pedro and 200,000 gallons to the navy yard at Honolulu.

Loughran Wins Over Schaff

BOSTON, May 24.—UP—Tommy Loughran world light heavyweight champion was awarded a 10-round decision over Eddie Schaff, young Boston heavyweight tonight. The decision was unpopular with the fans.

Schaff started an attack upon the champion at the bell. Loughran seemed to be unable to get away from the left of the Boston boy and fought most of the time on the defensive.

Vallejo Man Faces Term At Lakeport

LAKEPORT, May 24.—UP—All the troubles of Thomas Mansfield, and they increased in number today, may be traced to the suspicion that he stole an automobile in Vallejo.

Sheriff Lon McKelly of Lake county revealed that Mansfield, who was indicted in Eugene, Ore., Thursday on a charge of writing fictitious checks and is being investigated by federal authorities at Portland on suspicion of violating the Mann act, is liable to a five year term in prison if he is returned to this state.

Mansfield was sentenced to a year in jail following conviction here but was granted probation. The sheriff said he could be sent to a state penitentiary automatically for a term of five years if he has violated that probation.

Oregon authorities apprehended Mansfield when he was discovered in an automobile owned by Earl Owens of Vallejo that had been reported stolen. With him was Katherine Berry, also indicted on the bad check charge by the Eugene grand jury.

GERMANS AID U. S. WAR HISTORY

WASHINGTON, May 24.—UP—Historians of the fighting Second Division, A. E. F., are developing a kindly regard for the men they were calling "Boche" and shooting down as such 11 years ago on the Chateau-Thierry front.

They have discovered from examination of official German war records that the mud was just as sticky, enemy airplanes just as "regular" on one as on the other side of No Man's Land. The result is they are beginning to regard the troops of the late enemy as comrades rather than foes.

The Second Division, whose volunteer army and marine corps units saw service in six great battles, is the first to "use German records in compiling its own history. It has employed three clerks in Germany to copy official records of the 4th enemy division which fought at one time or another opposite the Second.

This material is translated into English and incorporated in the division's history at the Army War college by veterans of the old Second. Captain C. O. Mattfeldt and Captain G. Braun, assisted by a clerical staff, are doing the work. Private Martin Lichtenberg, now of the United States marine corps but a member of the German marine corps during the war, is one of their assistants.

"The records show that enemy morale was high to the last," Braun told the United Press. "But that American strength was underestimated even after our troops had won respect as fighters."

Handy Hands

Bobby Reeves looks to be the best of the large group of players received by the Boston Red Sox in the trade that sent Buddy Myer, their star third baseman, to the Washington Senators. Bobby is one of the most talented infielders in the game and it is surprising that he wasn't discovered in Washington. The lad has a huge pair of hands that few ground balls escape and no pop flies, and a life-like peg to first base that is a delight to Manager Carrigan, but tough to the first baseman's sore hands.

OAKS, INDIANS, STARS, L. A. LOSE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—UP—Fans interested in close races for baseball pennants were discouraged today when two clubs of the first division lost while the San Francisco Mission, leaders of the Pacific Coast league by a wide margin, were trouncing Oakland 9 to 6.

The Seals of San Francisco were the only players of the upper half of the league to win, beating Seattle 7 to 1 to gain an even break on that series.

Portland scored five runs in the seventh and eighth innings to beat the second place Los Angeles Angels, 7 to 5, and the Oaks, who had been tied with the Seals for third place, dropped to fourth position.

After taking three defeats in a row from Hollywood, Sacramento Senators trounced the Stars today by a score of 15 to 0 and the Stars were still one game behind Oakland.

In every contest except that won by Portland the victors outplayed their rivals from the start. In addition the Seals and Sacramento were aided by good pitching. Malls of the Seals allowing three hits and Sacramento's hurlers, Vincil and Rachael permitting only six.

The Missions made five runs in the fifth inning as a high light of their victory.

AIMEE TO LEAD PILGRIMAGE TO HOLY LAND

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—UP—Aimee Semple McPherson, blonde founder of the Four Square faith will lead 1000 of her followers in a great modern pilgrimage to the Holy Land, next Easter tide. It was learned at Angelus Temple today.

The evangelist is negotiating with Cunard line officials regarding the possibility of chartering a ship to carry the crusaders across the sea.

Plans for the journey were revealed by Mae Waldron, her secretary, who pictured the trip as the "most wonderful crusade of reparation in history."

"Sister isn't sure herself yet just where the crusade will start," Miss Waldron explained.

"We are sure of one thing, however, and that is that sister is going to lead the greatest crusade in history next Easter—a crusade which will bring back the days of Christ and the apostles for a little time and which will remain in our hearts as a wonderful spiritual experience."

Present plans call for the band of crusaders to leave New York on a chartered liner and to arrive at the Garden of Gethsemane on the Thursday before Easter. At dusk they will gather in the room where tradition says the Last Supper was held and reenact the scene.

Night Of Prayer

At dark they will march to the Garden of Olives, where Christ watched while his apostles slept. A circle of lighted torches will be formed and the night will be spent in prayer. At dawn, they will visit Pilate's house and later march to Mount Calvary, where Mrs. McPherson will speak the seven last words. When 3 o'clock the hour of death arrives, they will march to Christ's tomb to close their services.

Two months will be spent in touring the Holy Land, Egypt and Rome. Bible classes will be held daily.

She leaves several sons and daughters.

Bergen, manager of the Certain-teed Products company of Richmond addressed the members of the El Cerrito-Lions club yesterday afternoon at El Cerrito on the development of a plentiful and cheap supply of water for local industries. Bergen declared the lack of water is retarding the industrial progress of the bay regions and discussed the various proposals advanced for the elimination of this problem.

Charles Zimmerman was chairman of the day and musical selections were presented by Misses Mary and Betty Macdonald with Mrs. Claberta acting as accompanist.

Parents On Visit

Johnson and his wife left their farm at two o'clock Thursday afternoon. Several hours later they returned and did not find her but imagined she had run out to play. When she failed to come in for dinner she was reported as missing.

Farmers who know every ridge and ravine of the country, which at places is almost impenetrable started the search, and pioneers said they could not imagine how the slayer might escape.

Aviator Plans Endurance Hop

FLIERS BREAK TWO FLIGHT RECORDS

brightened considerably tonight by the improvement of weather conditions. The showers today caused some concern.

At 3:19 a. m. today the 111 hour, 46 minute record of the Graf Zeppelin in its flight to America from Germany fell before the onslaught of the two fliers.

Records Fall

At 9:33 a. m. the flight of the ill fated French dirigible Dixmude was conquered. Only the Question Mark record, 150 hours, 40 minutes and 15 seconds remained.

Fourteen successful refuelings had been accomplished tonight. Although Uring, Robbins and Kelly were cheerful and confident of the success of their venture. As the beginning of the end drew near, notes dropped from the ship took on a new tenseness and the refuelers reported that the faces of the fliers were drawn and haggard from anxiety and loss of sleep. But the motor, a Wright Whirlwind, continued to drone at the prescribed revolutions per minute.

Cowboy as Officer

To Jim Kelly, former cowboy, falls the task of keeping the motor in trim during the long hours in the air. Twice a day he eases along the catwalk to the motor and performs the necessary greasing operations.

The good spirits and confidence of the fliers, despite the anxiety which accompanies their flight, was shown in humorous messages dropped to the field below.

"We seem to have plenty of everything we need, including time," one message said. "It gives a thrill to get so many telegrams and letters. It helps to know that people are interested. Ten of our messages said, 'Two Texans can beat what any other six guys can do.'" (There were six men in the Question Mark.)

The two airmen declared they are not only going to break the record but they are going to break the record of the Question Mark's record, but are going to "set a good one for the boys to shoot at."

Water Hearing To Be Held In North Monday

Court action into the restraining order granted to property owners of the Lodi district against the East Bay Municipal Utility district will open Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Calaveras county superior court. The property owners are seeking to restrain the utility district from diverting water for the Mokelumne project now nearing completion.

Ranchers in the vicinity claim that diversion of water into the Mokelumne system will lower the water table in their wells.

"It is strange that action on the part of the ranchers should be delayed so long," H. A. Johnston, director of the district, stated last night. "The utility district has maintained its willingness all along to pay for whatever damages might be incurred by the property owners in the event that the water tables are lowered."

He characterized the court action as a move influenced by several San Francisco attorneys.

SCHOOL STRIKE NEARING END

URBANA, Ill., May 24.—UP—Under a temporary truce, more than 400 high school students who left their classrooms Thursday and paraded through the city in protest against the resignation of M. L. Flanigan, superintendent of schools, agreed to return to school today pending settlement of a faculty sex controversy.

Flanigan tendered his resignation after seven school teachers had filed a complaint with the school board charging the superintendent had discussed sex matters "too freely" with them.

The truce was effected today at a student indignation meeting which was addressed by F. E. Williamson of the school board. He persuaded the students to return to their studies pending a mass meeting of parents next Monday night at which the resignation of Flanigan will be discussed.

The fact that the school term ends in a week was used as a persuasive argument in effecting the temporary truce between the school board and students.

For the next 30 days your first call for radio service will be answered free of charge by our repair expert.
